Can Suffolk Be Stopped?

By Neil Kerr

Syracuse Post-Standard

Led by State Champion Mike Falcon of Sachem plus four stalwarts from unbeaten Long Island wrestling king Huntington High, powerful Section Eleven (Suffolk County, L.I.) comes to Syracuse's War Memorial eager to defend the team title it won here last March.

Blue-clad Section Eleven boasted five champs last year, including returning Falcon, who's up a class from his 155 of 1979. Also back from the Eleven lineup which scored a whopping 235 points a year ago are John Iannuzzi (119) of Brentwood Sonderling, Craig Richey (132) of Smithtown West and Jon Dolan (145) of Huntington. Iannuzzi earned a third at 112, Dolan was runnerup at 138 last March.

Huntington, undefeated and a close runnerup to repeating Baldwinsville-3 (51 straight dual wins) in the Empire State poll, also brings section champs Jim Flynn (105), Bill Gaffney (138) and Rick Nardelli (155) to the "states." Make no mistake, Suffolk is fully capable of defending the team crown.

But there will be challengers. Host Section Three boasts no less than five returning section champs, including the winner of 1979's "Most Outstanding Wrestler" award, state 145-pound champ Pete Capone of Watertown. Pete, trying to match the feat of his two-time state champion older brother, Tom, has won 55 straight bouts as he returns to the War Memorial.

Also returning are Gary Coleman (105) of Syracuse Fowler, Mike Catania (119) of North Syracuse, 1980 Section Three 'Mow' Mark Shortsleeve (126) of Fulton, and Mike Conners (177) of state king Baldwinsville. Coleman was 4th (98), Catania was 4th (91) in 1978, Shortsleeve (126) was 3rd and Conners (177) was 4th a year ago. All of those gold-uniformed Section Three athletes will be difficult to beat. Also looking superb from Three are Brett Cook (91) of New Hartford, John Pickard (younger brother of state "MOW" Tom) (138) of Baldwinsville, unbeaten Mike Ramos (29-0) at 145 and undefeated Terry Bernat (31-0) of Lowville.

If Eleven and Three falter, you must always watch Section Eight, the green-uniformed team which has won more titles (eight) since this tourney began in 1963 than any other section. The Big Green could triumph, led by defending State Champ Carl DeStefanis (98) at 105, of Locust Valley, returning Joe Rabin (112) of Elmont, Bill Lubell of Bellmore Kennedy (167) and Penn State-bound All-State footballer Ron Heller (250) of Farmingdale. All were in Syracuse last year. Also check Mike DerGarabedian (126) of Baldwin, whose brother, Dean, was 132-pound state champion last March. Should DeStefanis win, he will become third brother, behind Bob and Al, to win two state titles!

This weekend, a quartet of 1979 Empire State champs return to seek duplicate honors. The aforementioned Falcon of Sachem, Capone of Watertown and DeStefanis of Locust Valley are joined by 126-pound Clar Anderson of Olean-6, who won at 112 last year. Anderson, incidentally, has won more matches (155-7-1 record) than any other matman in the history of New York State. Anderson and unbeaten Salamanca heavyweight Pete Lee (18-0) head the Section Six (Buffalo area) team.

Other strong Sections include Four (Ithaca-Binghamton), Nine (Lower Catskills) and Five (Rochester area). Section Four features middleweight teammates from Ithaca, Dave Turco (32-0) at 138 and Larry Iacovelli (33-0) at 145. Since World War Two, Ithaca owns probably the finest overall record of any Upstate New York school, Turco and Iacovelli the latest products to come off the Little Red assembly line.

From Five, watch a quartet of athletes from the No. 3-rated dual power in the Empire State, Canandaigua. The Braves boast Marty King (91), Matt King (132), Mike Reho (145) and Bill Hadsell (167). The Rochester squad also counts on returning section champs Larry Kane (105) of Penfield, Tony Cotroneo (112) of Irondequoit, Trevor Graham (126) of Spencerport and big Bob Button (215) of Newark. Kane took a 3rd, Cotroneo a 4th, Button a 2nd here last March. If a darkhorse team comes out of the pack to win the state team crown, it will most likely be Section Five, never having won before and overdue.

Strong in spots is Section Nine, featuring Brian Keyes (98) of Port Jervis, Doug Jenks (138) of Port Jervis, returning Bill White (145) of Suffern and third-time state qualifier Kevin Troche of Port Jervis. Troche is hoping for a state finals rematch with nemesis Capone of Watertown at 155.

Among the awards at stake will be a school trophy, for most points scored by one school. In contention should be Huntington-11, Canandaigua-5, Port Jervis-9 (four qualifiers), Peru-7 (six qualifiers), Baldwin-8 (three qualifiers), Suffern-9 (three qualifiers) and Sachem-11 (three qualifiers).

To the outstanding wrestler will go a trophy, awarded jointly by the New York State Sports Writers Association and the New York State Wrestling Coaches Association, for the 11th straight year. (See list of winners).

Again this year, no pre-meet seedings were issued. Pairings were drawn from a box, with returning 1-2-3-4 placewinners separated by brackets. This practice is the fairest possible (although this writer is among those who believe that at least the top four could easily be seeded by an impartial panel). Wrestlebacks were introduced into the tournament eight years ago to give defeated wrestlers a chance to place third, and score team points.

Today, to all teams and wrestlers, we in Central New York extend our congratulations for having earned a trip to the 18th New York State Tournament. Good luck, and we hope everyone enjoys the state finals, win or lose.

A Challenge for Capone

By Neil Kerr

Syracuse Post-Standard

Talk about a challenge! How would you feel if your older brother was a two-time New York State wrestling champion with a career record of 78 wins, six losses? Chances are, you would try out for basketball, hockey or maybe the polo team when you got to high school. After all, how do you top that sort of record?

That challenge was faced by Watertown High senior Peter Capone a few years back. His older brother, Tom, won back-to-back Empire State wrestling titles in 1972-73 at 145 pounds and lost only six matches in a glittering varsity career. Not bad.

So along comes Peter, another in the 12-child family of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Capone, a well-known Watertown dentist. Pete didn't go out for polo. He chose wrestling, and this weekend, he may improve upon the accomplishments of Tom, now a 24-year-old graduate student at the University of Pennsylvania dental school.

As the 18th New York State tourney begins, Pete Capone will compete at 155 pounds, seeking to duplicate Tom's feat of winning two state crowns. Not only did Pete triumph at 145 here last March, he was voted as the meet's "Most Outstanding Wrestler" and received two handsome trophies from guest of honor Wade Schalles.

This weekend, Pete brings a winning streak of 55 matches to the War Memorial, his career record a lofty 107-13-2. Recently, Pete became the 13th member of Section Three's Century Club (100 wins). He followed a pair of excellent 126-pounders, Mark Nourse of Cazenovia and Mark Short-sleeve of Fulton, as brand new 1980 members of that club.

To prepare for a hoped-for Intersectional repeat title, Capone has worked extra-hard in practice under the watchful eyes of coach Bob Ridall and assistant coach Gregg Ely, the latter a recent standout at Hofstra. Ely wrestled for Watertown and was outstanding before competing at Hofstra.

Also helping Pete get set for the "states" has been 27-year-old Pat Capone, a husky athlete who has been called "the best wrestler in the family" by coach Ridall. Pat was the first Capone to wrestle for Watertown, in the 1969-70 years. "I only lost one high school match, but I got injured late in my junior year," recalled Pat, who later wrestled very well for Marquette University. "I had heart problems my senior year and never got a chance to go to the State Tournament."

Pat recently finished doctorate work at the University of Buffalo, and has worked with Pete daily at Watertown practices. "Without Pat," says Pete, "I don't know what kind of shape I'd be in. He's my strength coach. He weighs 175 pounds, and I really get worn out trying to stay with him. Then I wrestle with Ely too. He's my speed coach."

With three coaches to help, Pete Capone should be tough to beat again this year. Says Pat, "All I know is, Pete's about 50 percent stronger than he was last year."

Pete is quicker than last year also, possibly thanks to his soccer conditioning. Capone was a first team, Central New York Cities League all-star in soccer this past fall, helping Watertown to Section Three runnerup status in Class A.

But wrestling remains his favorite sport. He's likely to continue a promising career next year at college, schools like Lehigh, Syracuse, Navy, Clarion State and Louisiana State all seeking his services.

First, however, comes the completion of a family challenge. Can he win two Empire State titles? Perhaps the toughest obstacle Pete will face at 155 pounds will be the talented Kevin Troche of Port Jervis, twice a place-winner here the past two winters. Capone pinned Troche in an exciting overtime match last March, but Troche caught and pinned Capone last August here in the finals of the Empire Games competition. "Troche is tough," admits Capone, "but I've got a number of other guys to beat before I can worry about him." (If Capone and Troche collide, it would be in the finals, because they are lodged in opposite brackets.)

Capone's appearance here is another feather in the cap of coach Ridall, in his 20th season as boss of the Watertown matmen. He's had past state champions in Tom Capone and 250-pound Keith Rose (1970), plus numerous state placemen. And Ridall's Cyclones won 50 straight duals from 1968-71, a Section Three record which was broken last month by state poll champion Baldwinville (with 51).

Wrestling has been a long, rich tradition at Watertown, the sport having originated there around 1930. One of the early Watertown coaches was veteran Jack Williams, honored here last year with a "Hall of Fame" award by the New York State wrestling coaches association.

It has been a glittering wrestling history in Watertown. If Capone is capable of meeting the challenge laid down by his older brother, Watertown can be proud again.

THE TIGER STORY

First came the Tiger...the original nylon wrestling shoe. Then Tiger added the 4 layer sole and the 4 layer toe cap. Then the 4 stripes—"The Four Stripes of the Champions." Then came the "Look-Alikes" the imitators, with their imitations. For many years they've tried to copy the Tiger...but most "Look-Alikes" are no longer on the market because the "Look-Alikes" made the mistake of imitating only the outside of the Tiger. They neglected to imitate the inside. They used different grades of nylon, vinyl or leather and most important, they used a softer rubber sole. To date no one has duplicated the 4 in 1 Tiger soles—4 separate layers of rubber and fibre that puts the Tiger way ahead of the imitations. And—the Tiger is still going strong after 17 years.

Many would have you believe that they have the same shoe as the Tiger but made under a different label...

DON'T YOU BELIEVE IT.

There is only one Tiger, the Tiger is not made under any other label and only Tiger has all three: a 4 in 1 sole, a 4 in 1 toe cap and 4 stripes of distinction. Don't accept an imitation...the champions didn't!...

JIM NANCE — DIRECTOR

"Wrestling is a team sport that develops individuals. It taught me discipline, determination, and desire, as it built my character. The one on one aspect of wrestling helps the young athletes deal better in sports, as well as life. The wrestler learns to face a situation and rely on his own ability and ingenuity to overcome it. It is this discipline that is the key to success — not only in wrestling, but in life." — Jim Nance
